Principal, Administrators join in creating

At the master controls of the great machine known as Medford Senior High School for the third year is Dr. William E. Ruck. The myriad range of activities under his jurisdiction as Principal make him involvement and adventure personfied. He is equally at home attending a band rehearsal, presiding over a school function, or welcoming visitors to the campus.

Daily from his office come the hundreds of decisions and ideas necessary to keep the assemblage of nearly 17000 components operating smoothly. Dr. Ruck played a key role in the preparation of the dress code revisions and curricular changes instituted during 1969-70. He led the community support for Black Tornado athletics culminating in the State A-1 football championship. He offered encouragement to the award-winning MSHS publications, and met the triumphant band on their midnight return from Victoria. He seldom misses the numerous club and organization activities.

Dr. Ruck, a former social studies instructor, feels a personal commitment to each student. He offered this thought to the Tornadia staff; "The world is not interested in people who are only interested in themselves, but rather in people who are interested in other people." His concluding words to the class of 1970 are, "We have tried to give you every opportunity to learn and prepare. . . the world is yours."

Dr. Ruck is interviewed by Hi-Times Editor Miss Candy Mohr.

Library is heart of MSHS academic world

Heart of the MSHS academic program, in curriculum as well as in architecture, is the library. Teachers in nearly all academic courses made repeated use of its resources in giving their students a wide range of in-depth knowledge. Term paper and report writers found its services indispensable. Students seeking reading material merely for pleasure or for out-of-class learning also relied on the library, which was presided over by Miss Glenna Brewold and Mr. Bert Webber.

Just as the library is the heart of the academic program, so the academic program is the heart of the school. Extracurricular activities have their place, but the school exists to impart knowledge to its students and its success or failure is measured not in football scores but in the achievements of its graduates.

Medford Senior High School is fortunate to have a staff of well-trained, experienced and highly qualified classroom teachers to implement the broad curriculum and to take advantage of the beautiful and functional physical plant.

The academic program of a large and vibrant school such as MSHS cannot be easily capsuled or characterized. It includes subjects as varied as carpentry, anthropology, and instrumental music; offers broad survey courses for students exploring a field for the first time; advanced academic courses to prepare students for higher education; and courses of a vocational nature to prepare students directly for the world of work.

In large part, the program of academics, consisting of both mental and manual skills, is MEDFORD SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL.

MSHS students travel, develop and grow!

MSHS students are always an active and involved lot, and this was never more true than in 1969-70. Representatives of the Black Tornado traveled to Honolulu, Victoria, Washington, D.C., Minneapolis, and dozens of places in between. Medford in turn welcomed a pair of travelers - American Field Service students Mari and Hermi.

Few students became as deeply involved as the four tireless crusaders who tackled administration and school board head-on and emerged with a new dress code (or lack of one) for MSHS. Vicki Bannister, Kirk Simmons, Mike Saul and Dave McFadden spent days on end preparing, then evaluating and analyzing, a student-faculty-community survey on the subject. Many hours more went into perfecting the revised regulations and developing the student case for the school board debate. Nearly two hundred students turned out to view and participate in the proceedings as what began as the dream of a few became reality when backed by dedication and involvement.

MSHS was represented in many other ways as well. The choir, band and orchestra made concert tours. Junior City Council and Junior Goverment Day gave students a chance to be involved first-hand in local government. Miss Cindi Harrison wears the mantle of Miss Rogue Valley. A small but energetic group got a taste of political campaigning in the GO-19 movement. Thirty-six seniors were feted as the outstanding academicians of the class of 1970. The rally squad made its voice heard - literally at sporting events and during Tornadia Week. Thespian Troupe 358 entertained audiences with a full-length production and a series of five shorter plays. Hundreds of other students sank their teeth into life by involving themselves in one - or many - of the dozens of activities which were available to them.

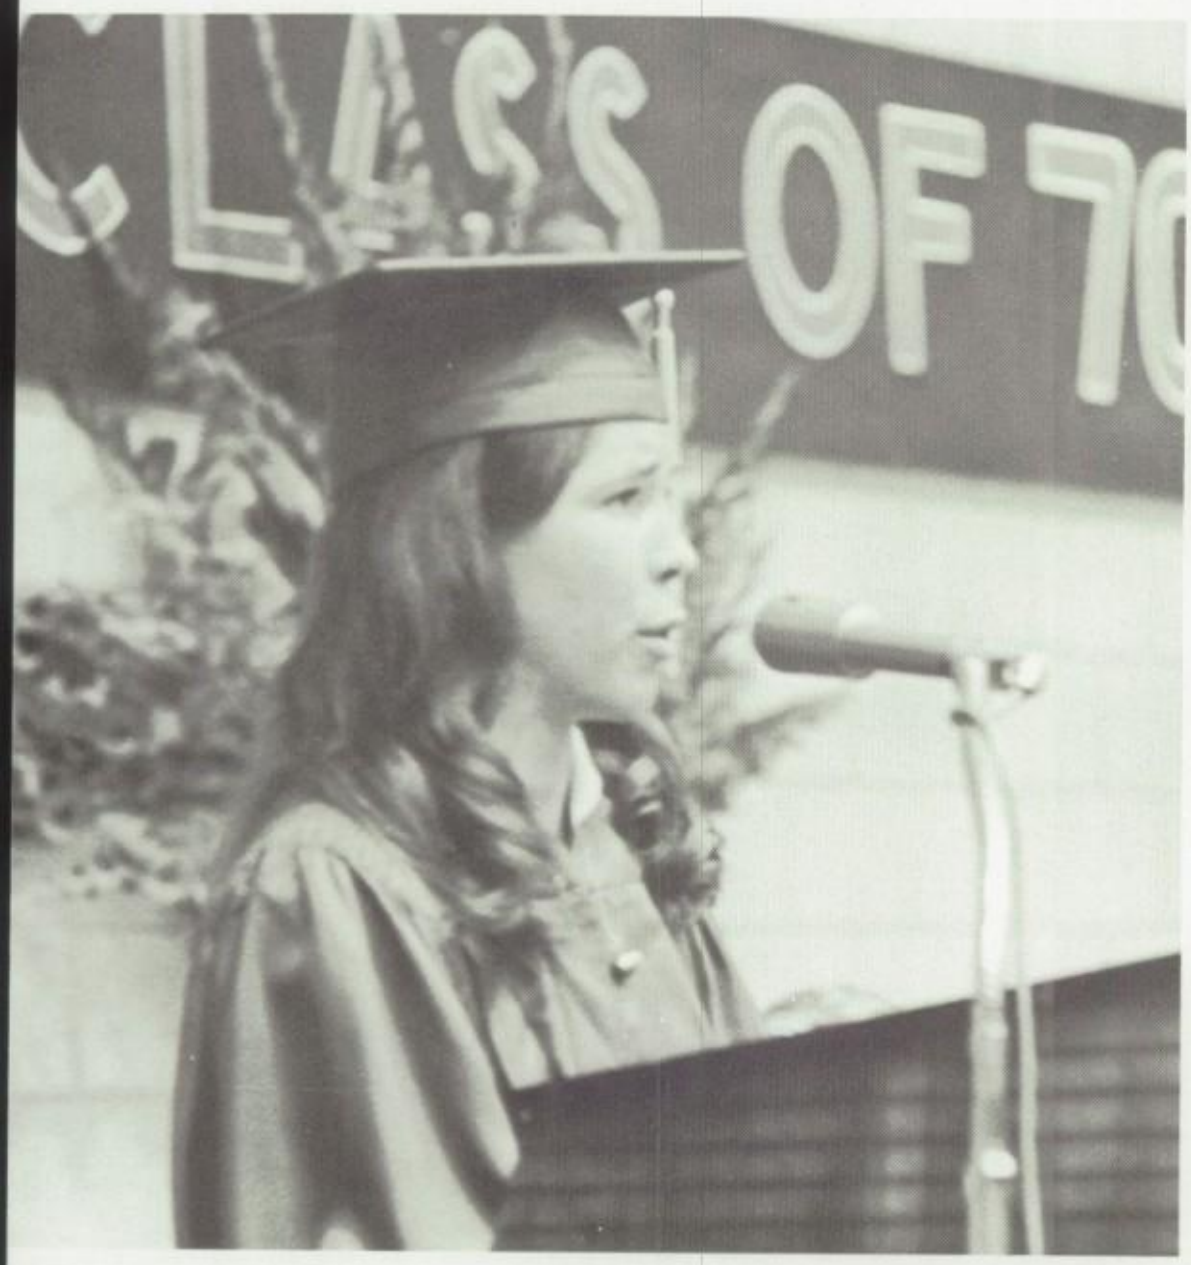
'How we bear up to the pressures will determine how successful we will be.'



The 721 members of the class of 1970 heard remarks by two of their number and a musical presentation as the highlights of the June 4 commencement exercises.

"Our eyes and our minds have been opened," Donna McGinty said. Mike Saul concurred and stressed, "We must be honest with ourselves and with our fellow man; we must be sensitive to each other's needs," he told the audience. Referring to the caps and gowns, he said, "We may all look alike but, thank God, we do not all think alike!"

Following his remarks, Mike joined Miss Paulajane Moffitt and Rick Huston in singing Simon and Garfunkel's "Song for the Asking" with its beautiful message of sensitivity and compassion. At Mike's request, the audience held hands during the song.

The four students received a standing ovation from the audience of over four thousand.

Rev. Paul Moffitt offered a similar message in his sermon at the May 31 Baccalaureate Service. Rev. Moffitt urged each student to "become a bridge over troubled waters and offer a helping hand to those in need."

Also participating in the commencement program were School Board Chairman, Mr. Wayne Wakefield, Superintendent Richard Langton, Principal William Ruck, Scholarship Chairman William Piche, Rev. Darwin A. Mann and the Tornado band under the baton of Mr. Irv. Mirick.

Bacon reports: 'It was quite a year - 1970!'

1969-70 was a banner year for Black Tornado athletes, - one state title, a state third place award, four district crowns. From the state championship football squad through successful spring sport teams, the third year on North Kenneway was easily the most successful athletically.

Highlight, of course, was the comeback of the Medford footballers from a 2-3 record (and the first loss to Ashland in 22 years) to a final 9-3 mark and the state championship. The long-awaited odyssey to Hawaii with which the team opened the campaign, ended in defeat, 13-7, at the hands of the McKinley Tigers. The rest of the pre-season slate seemed to be "win a few, lose a few", the wins being over Springfield, Hudson's Bay of Vancouver, Washington and the other a loss to Corvallis.

After the 20-0 Ashland defeat, the gridsters thumped Crater 52-0, came from behind the fourth quarter to top the Klamath Pelicans 21-14, and overpowered Roseburg 14-0. With the conference championship resting on the outcome, the Whirlwind battled the arch-rival Grants Pass Cavemen and celebrated Tornadia Week in grand fashion by sending the Cavemen reeling, 30-8.

Next on the agenda were the Thurston Colts of Springfield, who fell 21-10 before a Peterson, Rector, Singler onslaught on Eugene's Autzen Stadium Astroturf. Returning home, the Tornado soundly whipped the Jefferson Democrats 39-14 to set the stage for the final game, a rematch of the last-second thriller with the Corvallis Spartans.

Over 15,000 fans turned out in Corvallis' Parker stadium for the night-after-Thanksgiving battle. The temperature was only 17 degrees and the Astroturf glistened with frost. But after a sputtering start, there was nothing cold about the Tornado attack. Reserved fullback Jim Ronnander, running star of the evening, scored the first TD, and Bill Singler followed by grabbing three scoring tosses to write his name in the state A-1 playoff record books. When the final gun sounded, Medford had a 27-0 victory, the state championship, and thousands of happy fans.

Next on the agenda was basketball. The successes of the gridders could not be repeated, as the squad struggled to a 9-11 conference mark (11-11 overall). High points of the season were a pair of wins over conference champion Klamath Falls. Juniors, Singler and Tom Egge teamed up in the backcourt to provide a top 1-2 scoring punch for Coach Frank Roelandt's hoopsters, but a lack of depth and front-line strength sealed the Tornado's doom in 6A-1 competition.

Coach Ralph Monroe's wrestlers muddled through a 5-18-1 regular season, reduced much of the time to only half strength. Came district meet, however, they acquitted themselves well with a strong third place finish and four qualifiers for the state meet. Kevin DeForest, Larry Fariss, and Marlan Wallace took district titles and Terry Lucich was runner-up. At the state contest Lucich and Fariss pulled down third place medals and the team ranked tenth.

With spring came Medford's greatest successes. Medford golfers and netmen won district crowns and the tracksters took a state award.

The golf squad, coached by Len Sharp, cruised to a 17-1 regular season record, losing only to Corvallis whom they later trounced. Paced by Egge's 4-under par round, they took the district team title handily. At the state contest, however, they fell down and could only place ninth.

Cross country in the fall had been dismal, but with spring came a powerful Tornado track team. Highlights were a win in the Medford Kiwanis' Rogue Relays and a second place in the conference contest. At the state meet, hurdler Jeff Werner won a gold medal, as did the 440-yard relay team of Singler, Ross Cook, Mike O'Grady and Steve McIntyre. Their exploits and those of their teammates, were good enough for the third place trophy in the meet.

Medford baseball fortunes paralled those of the hoopmen. "Win a few, lose a few" could characterize the diamond season. Typical was a four-game period in which they lost to Klamath Falls twice without scoring a run, then whipped Ashland 17-0 and 12-1. Final conference mark was 10-10; final season record was 22-11.

The Medford fans also came up with their usual steller performance, following Tornado squads across the state and even to Honolulu. During the football campaign, the Medford stadium was filled game after game and hordes of Medfordites traveled to Klamath Falls, Roseburg, Eugene and Corvallis. The two play-off games contested in enemy territory saw larger contingents of Medford fans than of home team followers.

Crowds for the other sports made up in enthusiasm what they may have lacked in size. At the state wrestling and track meets the Medford delegation was sure to make its presence known. Few fan delegations at the spikefest, held in Eugene, were larger than Medford's and none was louder.

Tornado managers and statisticians also played their part, keeping things running smoothly on tour and at home. KYJC and KMED beamed play by play accounts and human-interest details to the home fans. Fred Linton and Chris Brewer never missed a ball game. Dick Jewett and his staff at the Medford Mail Tribune provided detailed accounts of all contests. Community support for Medford athletics was led, of course, by the Mayor. No one cheered louder or longer than Bill Singler, Sr., who a number of years earlier had written his name into the record books as his son is now doing.

In final analysis, what makes athletics are the hundred of hours of dedication given by athletes and coaches. This is where the real credit must go for the successes of Medford athletics during 1969-70.

Clubs offer vehicle for service and pleasure

Mention MSHS organizations, and one of the first that comes to mind is the debate squad. The Tornado orators have made an enviable record over the years, and have a closetful of trophies to show for their efforts. The man most responsible for these forensic successes is De-Vere Taylor, well into his second generation of students as he finishes his third decade as MSHS speech instructor and debate coach. Numbered among the thousands of students he has instructed are many community leaders and several members of the present MSHS faculty.

Debate is, of course, just one of the many organizations and clubs which serve as important parts of the extra-curricular programs at MSHS. Groups of every nature exist--service organizations such as Key Club and Hope Corps; interest groups such as FTA and Bi-Phy-Chem; foreign language clubs, honoraries, exemplified by Quill and Scroll and the National Honor Society, musical organizations, athletic squads . . . the list goes on.

Also included in the organizations are the publication staffs who have made possible Hi-Times and the Tornadia now in your hands. Hi-Times serves as a vehicle for the talents of many students and is a significant learning experience for them, in addition to being the public facade of an actively involved student body. Tornadia staff members concern themselves with the aesthetics of the communicative arts, seeking to create a representative record of the school year and at the same time a graphic work of art.

On the following pages are pictured many MSHS students engaged in their favorite activities, participating in some of the many organizations created under school auspices.
